

Israeli Hope in Education

2017-2018

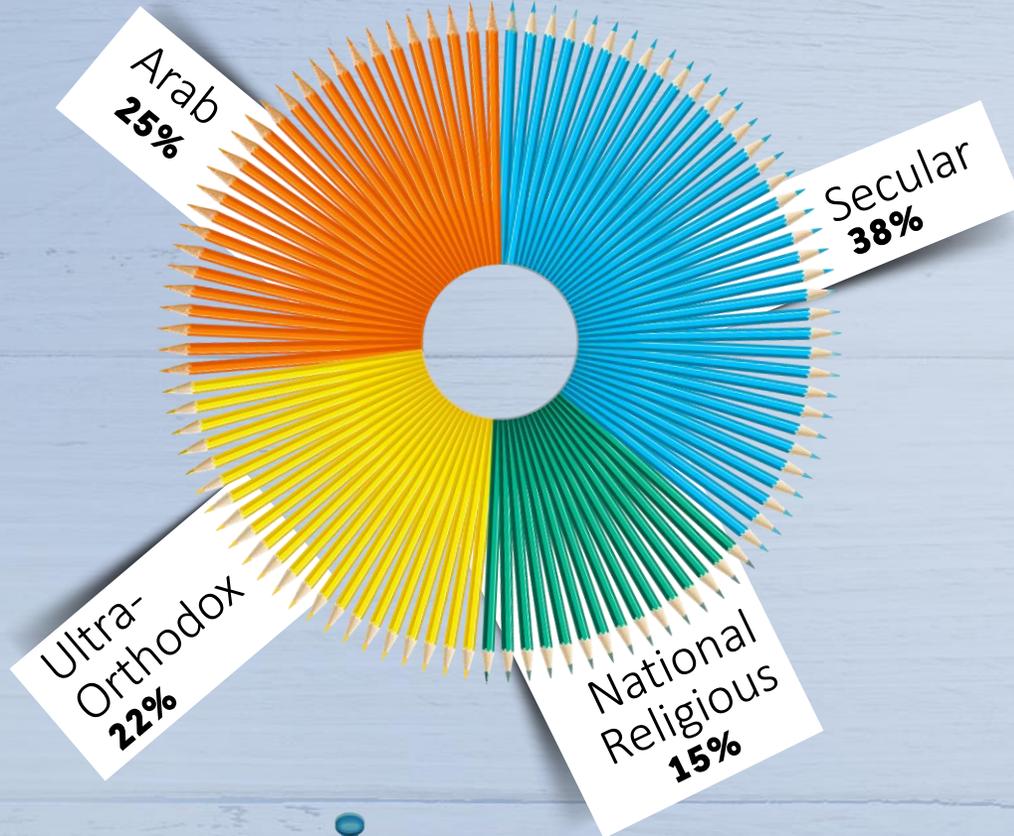

A new reality for Israeli society?

“The face of Israeli society is changing. These transformations will reshape our identity as ‘Israelis’, and will impact the way in which we understand ourselves and our national home. These are not changes which can be overlooked.”

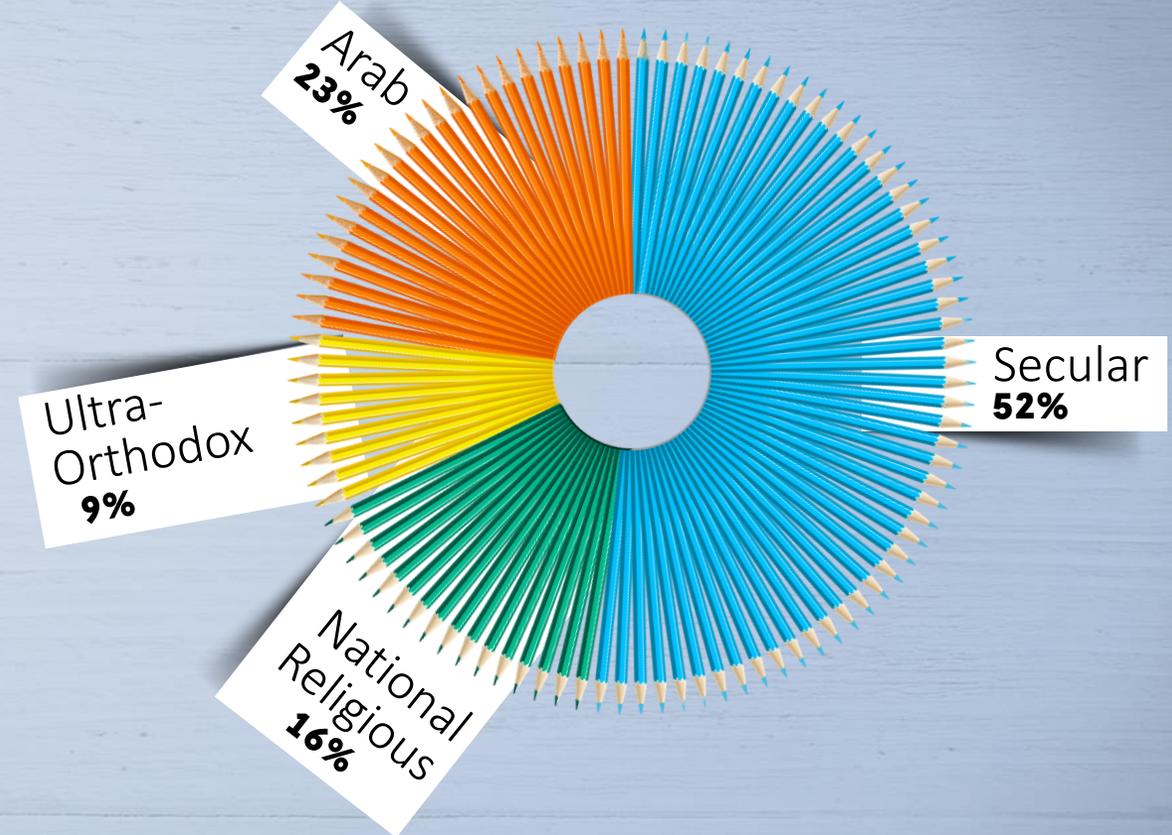

President of Israel, Reuven Rivlin, Herzliya Conference, June 2015

A new reality for Israeli society | Implications

First Grade Students
2018

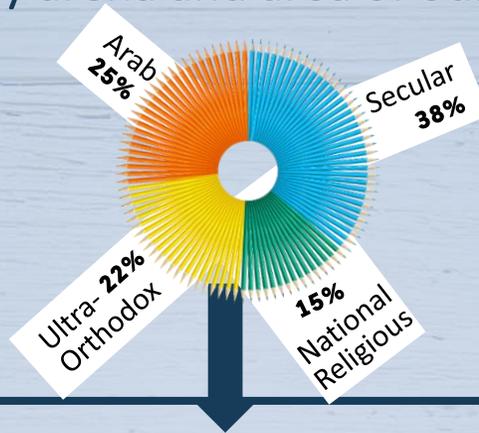

First Grade Students
1990

- Four groups of similar size, with different approaches to key basic values
- There is no longer a clear 'majority' or 'minority' when it comes to basic issues
- Transition from "dominance" to a concept of "partnership"

Israeli Hope | The rationale

"The new Israeli order has implications in every arena and area of our lives ..."

Sport

- Education for tolerance
- Combatting racism & discrimination

Education

- Creating a shared infrastructure for separate education streams
- "Education for Partnership" as standard

Academia

- Diverse academia
- Shared space
- An effective link to the labor market
- Building leadership

The work force

- Diversity and representation (private and public sector) as standard

Media & Communication

- Presence & representation
- Link between communication platforms

Leadership

- Fostering community leadership
- Cultivating common local leadership

- Establishment of accepted standards and best practices across society
- Convening of a broad coalition

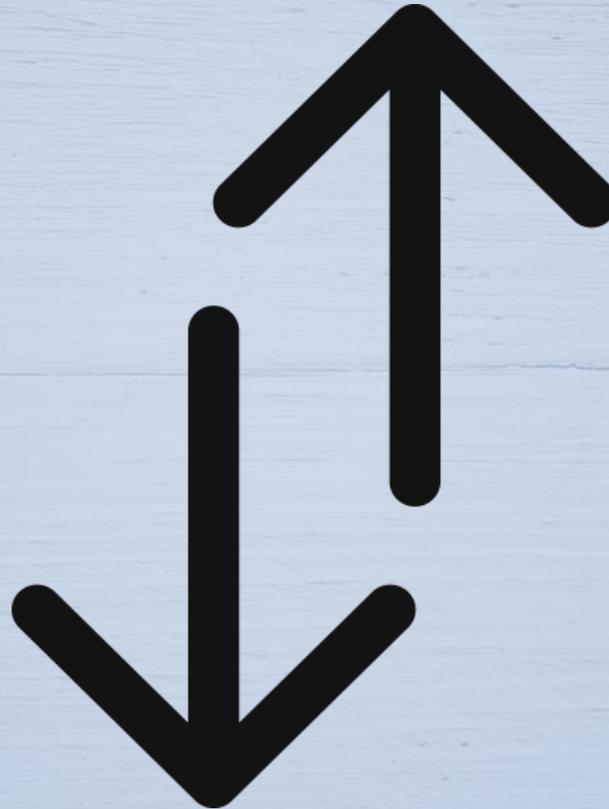

Israeli Hope in Education | Goals

1. Partnering with “state players” to encourage prioritizing and budgeting of education for partnership as a strategic goal
2. National acknowledgement of schools and municipalities that promote education for partnership
3. Increasing the number of schools which engage in education for partnership
4. Developing knowledge and tools for education for partnership

Israeli Hope in Education | Strategy

TOP DOWN

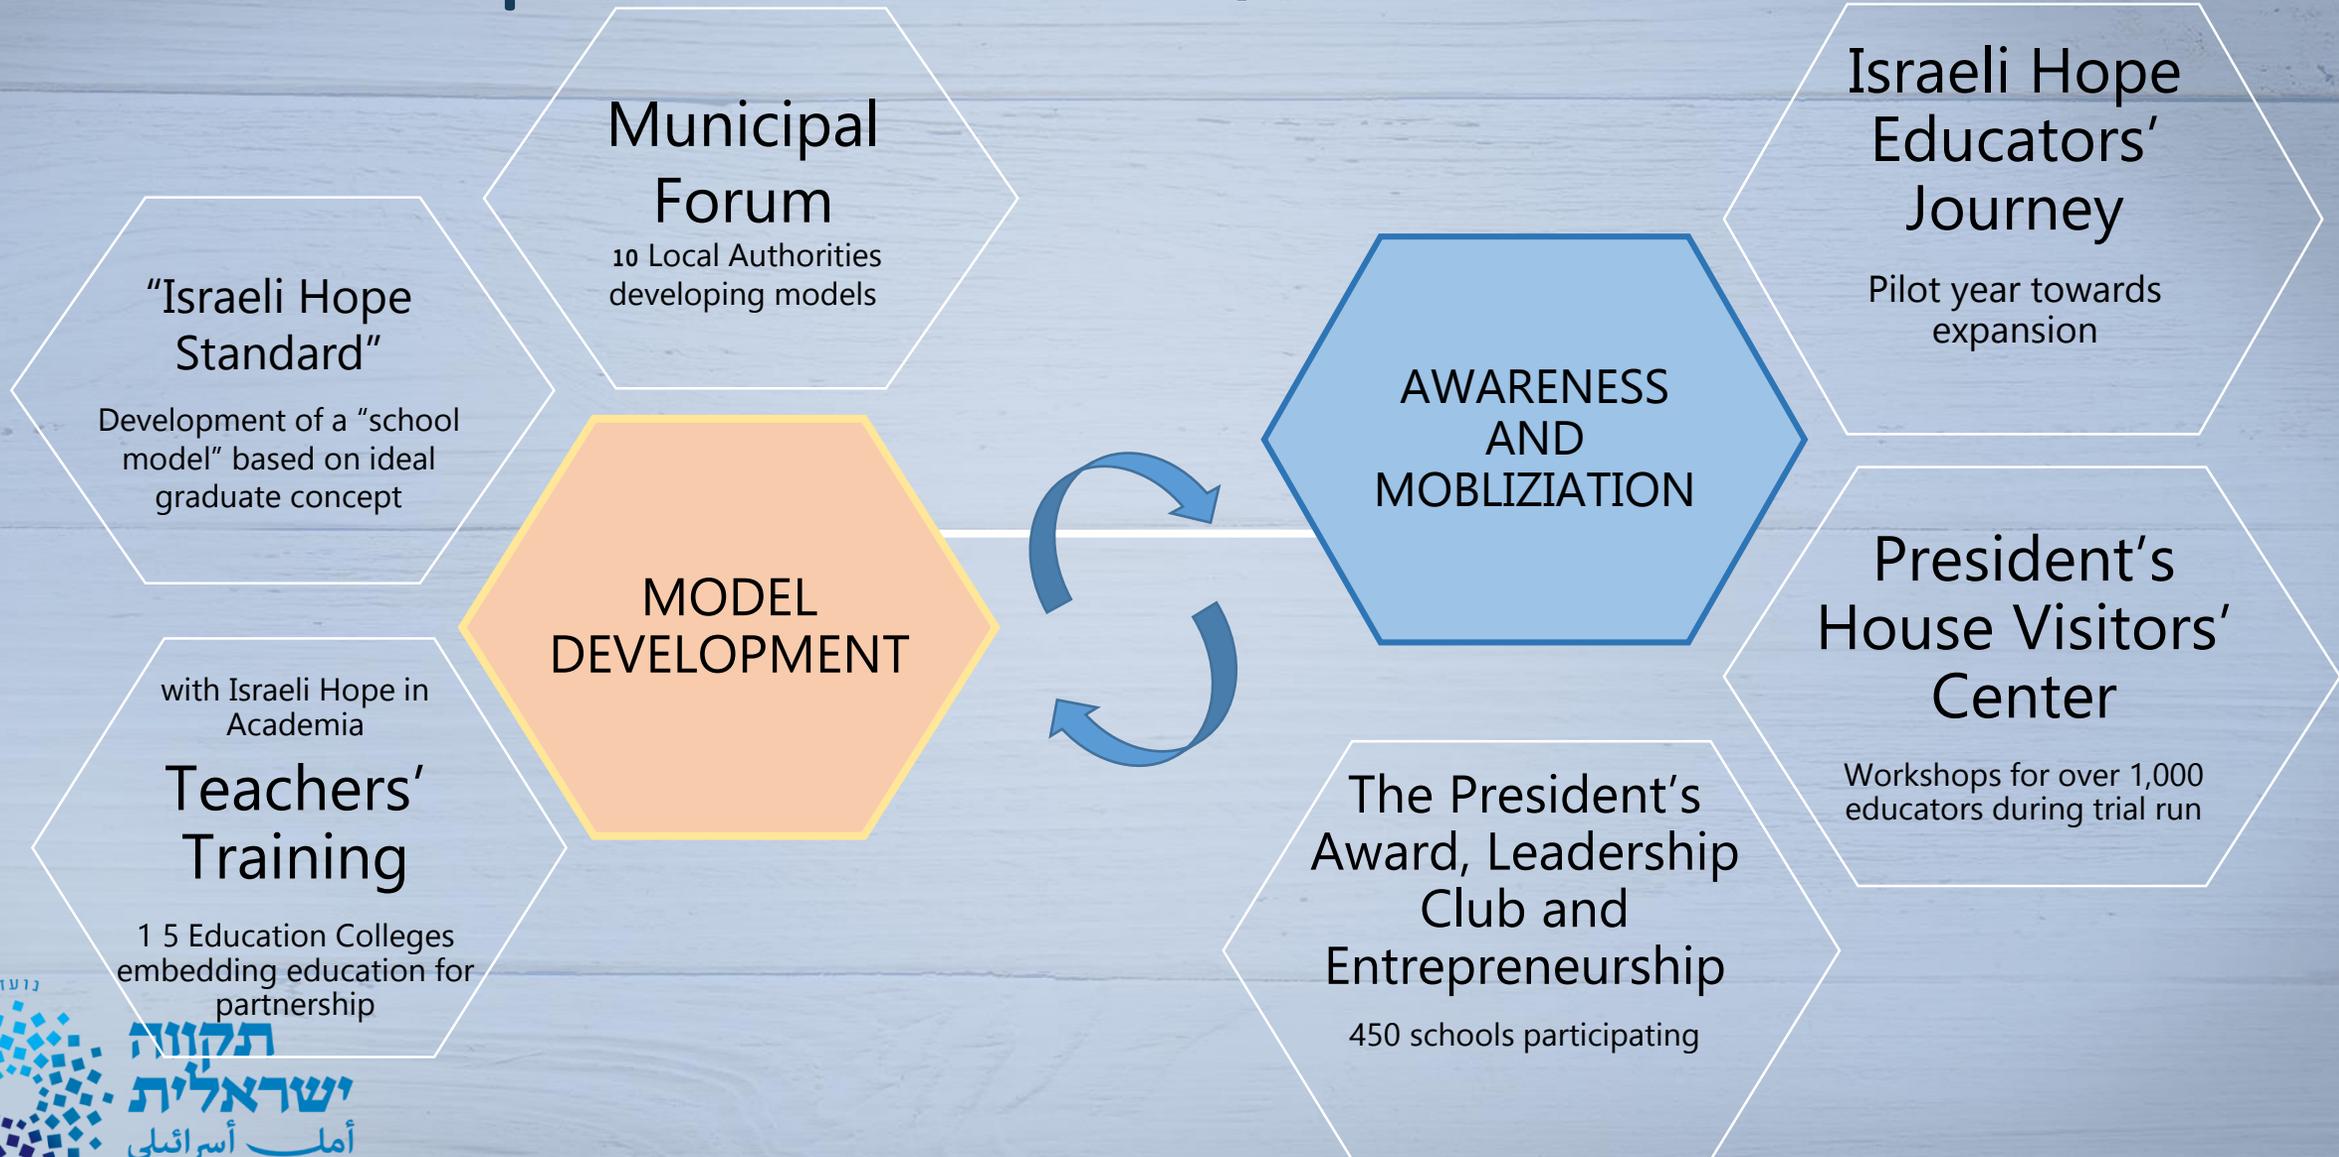

PARTNERING
WITH “STATE PLAYERS”

BOTTOM UP

OUTREACH
AND FIELD
ENGAGEMENT

Israeli Hope in Education | Work Plan

Israeli Hope Educators Journey | Launch

